

Double function shaft

All terminal blocks – One line

The consistent double function shaft of the CLIPLINE complete terminal block system provides a high degree of flexibility. Therefore, all terminal blocks can be freely combined and bridged, despite the various connection technologies.

To ensure fast and easy bridging, the standardized bridge accessories range consists of 2 to 50-position bridges, reducing bridges and freely pluggable wire bridges.

This standardization reduces your logistics costs many times over.

